

McDonald sculptures unveiled

Congratulations to Heidi Messing McDonald on the recent unveiling of her sculptures in St. Bruno Quebec. These beautiful pieces are truly larger than life. To the right you can see that the teacher in the center is seven feet tall and the nun to the right is six feet tall. I know that when I was in Catholic School at St. John's a six foot tall Nun would certainly have kept me in line!

In attendance at the unveiling was Messing-McDonald's mother as well as Quebec Lieutenant-Governor Lise Thibault accompanied by her marine body guard.
